Where you take a mortgage or loan product from us, we may also make periodic searches at CRAs and FPAs to manage your account with us. To do this, we will supply your personal information to CRAs and FPAs and they will give us information about you. This will include information from your credit application and about your financial situation and financial history. CRAs and FPAs will supply to us both public (including the electoral register) and shared credit, financial situation and financial history information and fraud prevention information.

4. What do we use personal data for?

We use information held about you in the following ways:

- to help us to provide the products and services you apply for (e.g. for verification purposes, mortgage or loan management);
- to carry out our obligations arising from any agreements entered into between you and us;
- to deal with your enquiries and requests (e.g. complaints handling);
- to analyse, assess and improve the popularity and viability of our products as well as to identify potential customers of new products;
- to tell you about products and services (including those of others) that may be of interest to you;
- to verify the accuracy of the data you have provided to us;
- to assess your creditworthiness and whether you can afford to take the product;
- to prevent and detect fraud, money laundering and other crime (such as identity theft);
- for tracing and debt recovery purposes;
- for statistical analysis and analytics; and
- to carry out regulatory checks and meet our obligations to our regulators.

5. What are our legal grounds for holding personal data?

Data protection laws require that we meet certain conditions before we are allowed to use your data in the manner described in this privacy policy. We take our responsibilities under data protection laws extremely seriously, including meeting these conditions. We rely on the following legal grounds in order to process your data:

- Processing of your data is necessary for the performance of a contract to which you are party to or to take steps at your request prior to entering into a contract
When you open an account with us, you enter into a legal contract under which we provide mortgages or loans to you. We require certain personal data in order to establish a contractual relationship. For example, you provide information about yourself in application forms, without which we would be unable to identify you or verify your suitability for the services requested.

- Processing of your data is necessary for compliance with a legal obligation which we are subject to

We are required to process certain personal data in order to comply with our legal and regulatory obligations including UK anti-money laundering regulations and for the purposes of ongoing fraud detection and reporting.

- We have obtained your consent

We may process certain information where you have provided your explicit consent for us to do so. For example, you may provide us with sensitive information such as certain health data (for example, to inform us about hearing difficulties) where this assists us in providing services to you.

Where we do rely on your consent in order to legally use your information in accordance with applicable data protection law you may withdraw this consent at any time.

We may also provide you with certain marketing information about third party services or products where you have provided your explicit consent for us to do so. Please note that we will use your personal information in order to provide certain marketing information for the same or similar services you have previously used. You can ask us to stop or start sending you marketing messages at any time by contacting us.

- Processing your data is necessary to protect your vital interests or the vital interests of another person.

In exceptional circumstances we may also process information such as your health data where this is essential to protect you or another person and where you are physically and legally incapable of providing consent.

- Processing of your data is necessary for the purposes of the legitimate interests pursued by us or by a third party, except where such interests are outweighed by your interests, fundamental rights and freedoms

Personal data is processed to help us manage our business and to analyse, assess and improve the viability and popularity of our products. It is also processed for the establishment and defence of legal rights.

Personal data is shared with external CRAs and FPAs. The legitimate interests being pursued are:

- Promoting responsible lending and helping to prevent over-indebtedness

“Responsible lending” means that lenders only sell products that are affordable and suitable for the borrowers’ circumstances. CRAs assist lenders to check that financial products are suitable, by providing personal data about potential borrowers, their financial associates where applicable, and their financial history.

- Helping prevent and detect crime and fraud and anti-money laundering services and verify identity

CRAs and FPAs help lenders to comply with their legal and regulatory obligations by providing identity, fraud detection / prevention and anti-money laundering services.

If we, or FPAs, determine that you pose a fraud or money laundering risk, we may refuse to provide the services and financing you have requested, or we may stop providing existing services to you. A record of any fraud or money laundering risk will be retained by the fraud prevention agencies, and may result in others refusing to provide services, financing or employment to you.

You can contact us using the details below (see ‘Your rights’) to find out which CRAs and FPAs we share data with.

- Supporting tracing and collections

CRAs provide services that support tracing and collections to recover debt, to reunite, or confirm an asset is connected with, the right person.

We will continue to exchange information about you with CRAs while you have a relationship with us. We will also inform the CRAs about your settled accounts. If you borrow and do not repay in full and on time, CRAs will record the outstanding debt. This information may be supplied to other organisations by CRAs.

When CRAs receive a search from us they will place a search footprint on your credit file that may be seen by other lenders.

If you are making a joint application, or tell us that you have a spouse or financial associate, we will link your records together, so you should make sure you discuss this with them, and share with them this information, before lodging the application. CRAs will also link your records together and these links will remain on your and their files until such time as you or your partner successfully files for a disassociation with the CRAs to break that link.

The identities of the CRAs, their role also as fraud prevention agencies, the data they hold, the ways in which they use and share personal information, data retention periods and your data protection rights with the CRAs are explained in more detail from each of the three CRAs – any of these three addresses will also take you to the same CRAIN document:

Experian: www.experian.co.uk/crain

Equifax: www.equifax.co.uk/crain

Callcredit: www.callcredit.co.uk/crain

You should be aware that if you do not meet the obligations of any agreement with OneSavings Bank plc, the availability of this information to credit reference agencies and therefore to other lenders may have a serious effect on your ability to obtain credit in the future.

6. Who do we share personal data with?

7. Where is personal data stored and sent?

All information which you provide to us is stored on our secure servers, and our customer databases are stored in the UK.

The data that we collect from you may be transferred to, and stored at, a destination outside the European Economic Area (the “EEA”). In particular, we have an operations centre in India and we engage third parties that may process personal data outside of the EEA. Your personal data may also be processed by staff operating outside the EEA who work for us or for one of our suppliers. This includes staff engaged in, among other things, the processing of your payment details and the provision of support services. We will take all steps reasonably necessary to ensure that your data is treated securely and in accordance with this privacy policy.

In particular, when we send personal data overseas, we will make sure suitable safeguards are in place, in accordance with European data protection requirements, to protect the data. In all cases these safeguards will be one of the following:

- Sending the data to a country that’s been approved by the European authorities as having a suitably high standard of data protection law.
- Putting in place a contract with the recipient containing terms approved by the European authorities as providing a suitable level of protection.
- Sending the data to an organisation which is a member of a scheme that’s been approved by the European authorities as providing a suitable level of protection. One example is the “Privacy Shield” scheme agreed between the European and US authorities.

More information on these safeguards can be found here: https://ec.europa.eu/info/law/law-topic/data-protection_en

Whenever FPAs transfer your personal data outside of the EEA, they impose contractual obligations on the recipients of that data to protect your personal data to the standard required in the EEA. They may also require the recipient to subscribe to ‘international frameworks’ intended to enable secure data sharing.

How long is personal data kept for?

We will retain information about you for the period necessary to fulfil the purposes for which the information was collected. After that, we will delete it. The retention period may vary depending on the purposes for which the information was collected.

Where a specific legal or regulatory requirement applies to your information we will retain it for the period of time specified in such legal or regulatory requirement. In the absence of a specific legal or regulatory requirement, we will usually retain your information for six years following the end of your relationship with us. However, we may be required to extend the retention period if the information is required due a complaint or because it is required for litigation.

Please also note that we are sometimes legally obliged to retain the information, for example, for tax and accounting purposes. FPAs can hold your personal data for different periods of time, and if you are considered to pose a fraud or money laundering risk, your data can be held for up to six years.
